

Call for Applications: Research Assistant and Technical Assistant Program for Researchers

Coping with Childcare and Family Care (AY2026)

Under the MEXT "Initiative for Realizing Diversity in the Research Environment (Female Leader Development Type)"

1. Purpose

Nagoya University has been selected for the FY 2023 "Initiative for Realizing Diversity in the Research Environment (Female Leader Development Type)," a project funded by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT), Japan. Making effective use of this project, the Center for Gender Diversity at Nagoya University will actively promote support for female researchers and the advancement of gender equality.

As part of this initiative, we will implement the Research Assistant and Technical Assistant Program to support researchers in balancing their academic work with life events such as childbirth, childcare, and family care.

2. Program Overview

In principle, one Research Assistant (RA) or Technical Assistant (TA) will be assigned per eligible applicant. The RA or TA will perform research-related tasks, including data analysis, experiment assistance, and data preparation, under the supervision of the supported researcher.

【Eligibility for RA/TA】

(i) Research Assistant (RA): Graduate students enrolled at Nagoya University

Technical Assistant (TA): Undergraduate students or research students (kenkyusei) at Nagoya University.

(ii) Remuneration:

Research Assistant (RA): 1,774 yen /hour

Technical Assistant (TA): 1,320 yen /hour

(iii) RAs and TAs must be nominated by applicants (persons entitled to support). The applicant does not need to be the academic supervisor of the nominated students.

(iv) RAs and TAs may be employed starting from April 1, and must not have any concurrent employment with Nagoya University during the support period.

(vi) TAs must have a valid "Permission to Engage in Activities Other Than Permitted under the Status of Residence".

3. Support Details

All employment costs for RA or TA (up to 10 hours per week, with no overtime) during the support period, including employer contributions, will be fully covered.

* The research assistant or technical assistant is employed by the department to which the faculty members belong; therefore, the department is responsible for handling her/his employment procedures including recruitment and attendance management, etc. Regarding attendance management, inappropriate practices have been observed, so please be very careful.

*Please note that there is a budget limit, so be mindful of compensatory time off and overtime wages.

4. Number of researchers entitled to be supported

Approximately 10 researchers

5. Support Period

From April 1, 2026 through September 30, 2027

6. Applicant Eligibility

Researchers* employed by Nagoya University (regardless of gender) may apply for support if they are and fall into either of the following categories; provided, however, that they need support due to their spouse being employed or under medical treatment, etc.:

- i. Pregnant, or raising a child in the fourth grade of elementary school or younger (excluding those on maternity/childcare leave)
- ii. Providing care for a spouse or a relative within the second degree of kinship

* Eligible researchers include full-time faculty, designated faculty, and research staff. Students are not eligible.

7. Application Procedure

Applications should be compiled and submitted via email by the administrative staff of each department.
